Learn with us as Karakaian shares her top organizing tips that have helped countless New Yorkers conquer their small and awkward spaces. But, being organized isn't just for those who live in small spaces. Her tips can be applied to homes and offices of all sizes all over the U.S. Join Sarah for a fun, informative, and interactive presentation on making life easier and more enjoyable by being organized. Sarah is most recently known for her classic revival design approach to flipping a beach house with her handy husband on HGTV’s hot new summer series Beach Flip. Having lived in New York City's tight spaces for over 12 years, Sarah has an undeniable knack and passion for maximizing small spaces.

After ten successful years traveling the world performing in hit Broadway musicals where the only constant thing was her two thoughtfully compartmentalized suitcases, Sarah decided to team up with her husband, Nick, a Licensed Contractor, Real Estate Salesperson, and designer with a Master’s degree in Architecture, to create beautifully designed spaces. They created their own NYC based professional organizing, design, and construction company, Nestr, LLC in 2014. Recently, they decided to take Nestr on the road - in the back of a 32' RV. Now they remain mobile and go to the homes and communities that need them. Follow their adventure on Instagram @nestr and at www.nestr.com
